Invitation

Dear Colleagues,

We cordially invite you to RyblKon 2027, to be held on 3–4 February 2027 at the Faculty of Agrobiology, Food and Natural Resources, Czech University of Life Sciences Prague.

RyblKon continues the long-standing tradition of Czech fisheries and ichthyological conferences and provides a platform for researchers, representatives of research institutions and public administration, as well as professionals in fisheries and aquaculture. The conference offers an opportunity to present current research results, share practical experience, and discuss contemporary topics related to fish, fisheries, aquaculture, and aquatic environments.

The conference is organised by the Faculty of Agrobiology, Food and Natural Resources, Czech University of Life Sciences Prague, in cooperation with the Faculty of Science, Charles University, under the auspices of the Czech Limnological Society.

Registration

Conference registration will be handled through an online form.

In the registration form, participants will provide their basic contact details, type of participation, and information on any conference contribution.

The registration form will also allow participants to:

- submit an oral or poster contribution,
- indicate whether they agree to the publication of their contact details in the Book of Abstracts,
- request a certificate of attendance,
- indicate whether they will not attend the conference social evening.

Conference Fee

The conference fee for participation on both conference days is:

Category	Conference fee including the social evening	Conference fee without the social evening
Students	CZK 2,200	CZK 1,500
Other participants	CZK 3,500	CZK 2,800

Students may be asked to provide proof of student status.

The conference fee includes:

- participation in the scientific programme on both conference days,
- basic conference materials,
- electronic Book of Abstracts,
- refreshments during conference breaks,
- the conference social evening, including a buffet and beverages.

Participants who do not wish to attend the social evening should indicate this in the registration form.

The conference fee must be paid no later than 31 December 2026.

Payment details will be sent by email.

Contributions

Participants may submit an oral or poster contribution.

Each participant may be the presenting author of a maximum of:

- one oral contribution, and
- one poster.

Contributions may be presented in:

- Czech,
- Slovak,
- English.

The organisers reserve the right not to include a contribution in the conference programme if its content does not correspond to the scientific scope of RybIKon 2027.

Oral Presentations

The expected duration of an oral contribution is:

10 minutes presentation + 5 minutes discussion.

The presentation time may be adjusted depending on the total number of submitted contributions and the structure of the final programme.

Technical instructions for presentations will be published before the conference.

Poster Presentations

Recommended poster format: A0 or A1, portrait orientation.

Further information on poster placement and installation will be provided in the conference programme.

Student Award

RyblKon 2027 will include a competition for the best student contribution.

Students who present their own scientific contribution at the conference and are its main presenting authors will be eligible to participate. Both oral and poster contributions may enter the competition and will be evaluated together in a single category.

The contributions will be evaluated by an expert committee appointed by the conference Organising and Scientific Committee. The evaluation will consider in particular:

- scientific quality and contribution of the presented work,
- clarity and structure of the presentation,
- interpretation of the results,
- ability to discuss the presented results and respond to questions,
- overall quality of the preparation and presentation of the contribution.

The results of the student competition will be announced at the end of the conference. The author of the highest-rated student contribution will receive a certificate and a prize.

Participants should indicate during registration whether they meet the conditions for participation in the student competition. The organisers may request proof of student status where necessary.

Abstracts and Book of Abstracts

Abstracts must be submitted no later than:

13 November 2026

Instructions for abstract preparation and the abstract template are included in the conference registration form.

The abstracts will be published in an electronic conference Book of Abstracts with an ISBN.

The authors are responsible for the content, scientific accuracy, and language quality of their abstracts.

Author Contact Information

The registration form will allow authors to consent to the publication of their contact details in the Book of Abstracts.

The following information may be published:

- full name,
- email address,
- affiliation and institutional address.

Conference Topics

Contributions may address, for example, the following topics:

fish biodiversity, fisheries management, fish-eating predators, crayfish, aquatic environmental quality in relation to fishes or crayfishes, current trends in aquaculture, pond aquaculture, intensive aquaculture, fish reproduction and genetics, fish processing and product quality, trade and economics of fish production, ethology, socioeconomics, taxonomy and nomenclature, evolution, interactions between fish and other aquatic organisms, invasive organisms, monitoring of aquatic ecosystems, and conservation of aquatic ecosystems. Thematic sessions will be created only after the number and focus of submitted contributions are known.

Preliminary Schedule

The scientific programme is preliminarily expected to follow this schedule on both conference days:

9:00–12:00 – morning scientific programme

12:00–13:30 – lunch break

13:30–16:00 – afternoon scientific programme

The schedule may be adjusted depending on the number of submitted contributions and the organisation of individual thematic sessions.

The detailed programme will be published on the RybIKon website before the conference.

Conference Social Evening

The conference social evening will take place on 3 February 2027.

Time: provisionally from 18:00

Venue: Food Pavilion, Faculty of Agrobiology, Food and Natural Resources, CZU campus

Participation in the social evening is included in the relevant conference fee.

Participants who do not wish to attend the social evening should indicate this during registration.

Participant registration, the scientific programme, and the poster session will take place in the premises of the Faculty of Agrobiology, Food and Natural Resources.

Exact room locations and an orientation map will be published together with the conference programme.

Catering During the Conference

Refreshments will be provided to registered participants during conference breaks and are included in the conference fee.

Lunches are not included in the conference fee.

Participants may use the CZU canteen located directly on the university campus. At lunchtime, several main courses, soup, a salad bar, and desserts are normally available.

The approximate price of a main course is CZK 150.

Meals or visits to the canteen do not need to be booked in advance as part of conference registration.

Accommodation

Participants are responsible for arranging their own accommodation. Accommodation is not included in the conference fee.

Certificate of Attendance

A certificate of attendance will be issued upon request.

Participants may request the certificate during registration.

The certificate will be sent electronically as a PDF file to the email address provided in the registration form. RybKon_27_2.cirkular
